Self-Esteem Angel

Shaelynn Louboules, right, as the Self-Esteem Angel, and Abby LaRocque, playing a character lacking in self-esteem, were part of a group of students from Holy Family Elementary School performing a play — based on local author Wendy Collier's book Being Different is Cool — to seniors at the Golden Circle. The play also served as a reminder to the audience that this is Education Week and that those seniors with grandchildren can make a difference in the children's academic lives.
